Year 1/2 Book Week 2015 Author Visit

To accompany Book Week celebrations this year, students will be participating in an incursion involving an author visit. Students will further understand the process that authors take when writing and illustrating books. Marjory Gardner is a freelance illustrator who delivers creative, exciting and interactive presentations that are entertaining and fun. Marjory’s workshops inspire students to see beyond the ordinary, to express their ideas in dynamic and creative ways – all in a supportive and entertaining environment.

Our apologies for the late notice, but we were able to access some authors at the last minute and we would like to provide our students the opportunity to experience meeting an author during Book Week.
